

I view with amusement the fact that Leonard H. Anderson has found the time to submit comments and reply comments approaching 100 pages on this matter, but on examination the entire content is belicose puffery and posturing.

For example, he would deny me my comments by dismissing them with this statement: "I consider Mr.Brakob's Comment inappropriate as well as misdirected."

For what it's worth, I also consider all of Mr.Anderson's comments inappropriate as well as misdirected."

Respectfully,

H. Hans Brakob
